About the institution

The Barcelona Clinical Research Foundation-August Pi i Sunyer Biomedical Research Institute (IDIBAPS) is a biomedical research centre of excellence, located on the Barcelona Clinic Campus and with a clear international focus.

The IDIBAPS research community includes over 2,000 professionals and a hundred multidisciplinary groups that carry out high-impact translational research aimed at addressing biological and clinical questions relevant to human health, as evidenced by the more than 1,500 original articles published each year that make the institution one of the main biomedical research centres in Spain.

The Clínic Campus offers a high-level research and innovation environment, which includes the Hospital Clínic of Barcelona, a referral hospital committed to care, research and teaching, which covers practically all medical and surgical specialties, plus the University of Barcelona's Faculty of Medicine and Health Sciences. The latter dates from 1843 and is today one of the most prestigious health sciences faculties in Spain and worldwide.

Since 2015, IDIBAPS has had HR Excellence in Research accreditation from the European Commission. It is a CERCA centre and is accredited as a Health Research Institute by the Carlos III Health Institute (ISCIII).

Job description

Position Overview

We are seeking a highly qualified Senior Researcher (R3A) with over 10 years of proven research experience to join our team. This individual will play a key role in coordinating laboratory tasks for a prominent European project. The position offers a unique opportunity to engage in impactful research within an internationally recognized institution while contributing to the success of a high-profile project.

Key Responsibilities:

- Coordinate and oversee laboratory activities for an ongoing European research project.
- Collaborate with multidisciplinary teams to ensure project milestones and objectives are met.
- Manage and streamline lab operations, ensuring adherence to established protocols and European project standards.
- Participate in the planning and execution of experimental designs, data collection, and analysis.
- Contribute to the preparation of reports, presentations, and project documentation.
- Assist in mentoring junior researchers and lab staff, fostering a collaborative and productive environment.

Requirements:

- Certification: R3A (Senior Researcher) certification or equivalent qualification.
- Experience: Minimum of 10 years of proven experience in research, with a strong track record in laboratory management or coordination.
- Demonstrated ability to work within large, multidisciplinary projects, preferably in a European or international context.
- Strong organizational and coordination skills, with experience managing research workflows and resources.
- Excellent communication skills in both written and spoken: Catalan, Spanish and English.
- Familiarity with European project guidelines and reporting standards is highly desirable.

Required qualifications

- PhD.
- Clinical microbiology Master's degree.

Experience and knowledge

- More than 10 years in the tasks described.
